Fewer Faculty, More Work Load Prescribed as Cure to Budget

An "imaginative" program to balance S.U.'s overweight budget has been proposed by the Board of Trustees and the Budget Committee, according to the Very Reverend Louis Gaffney, S.J., acting president.

The program, drawn up over the holiday break after weeks of consultation between the two groups and the board of regents, calls for substantial budget cuts and improved curriculum planning over the next two years.

"The program is, I think, a very imaginative one," said Fr. Gaffney. "We agonized on how we could balance the budget without making salary cuts, and we were able to accomplish that."

Fr. Gaffney stressed that there will be "building economies before personnel economies and administrative economies as well as instructional ones."

"Our basic decision is still to make a 10% across-the-board budget cut," said Fr. Gaffney.

Fr. Gaffney said that instructional and non-instructional budget cuts would total $400,000. The balanced budget will be in effect in the 1972-73 instructional budget and in the non-instructional budget for 1971-72.

"If the dorms (S.U.'s dorms are at about half occupancy) can be taken care of, this will put our budget in pretty good shape," said the acting president. "Our fund drive will take care of our present deficits. Eventually, with luck, we hope to build a small endowment."

What Fr. Gaffney calls "the greatest economy move in the whole plan" is the increase of faculty work load from 35 to 40 credit hours per year for the next two academic years.

Fr. Gaffney pointed out that since each teacher will have an increased class load, the University will be able to reduce the number of faculty members proportionately.

"We will also look carefully at our course offerings, to make sure they are adequate and strong but not luxurious, especially in the upper division courses. There may be opportunities to combine some courses."

Fr. Gaffney said it will take "special planning" to determine what courses should be eliminated or combined, with considerable attention given to the type and number of courses offered in the past by each department.

The limit of 40 students per class section, especially in introductory lecture-type courses, will be expanded to avoid smaller additional sections, Fr. Gaffney also said.

The acting president said that a 10% reduction in non-instructional department budgets will become effective Feb. 15, 1971. The entire budget for 1971-72 will be due Jan. 15 while the budget for 1972-73 will be due Feb. 1.

"These decisions are just a start," said Fr. Gaffney. "There is still much hard work ahead, but it can be done. Everyone here, including the president, has to make the necessary cuts in his budget."

Phantom Donor Sends $100 To ROTC in Second Viet Gift

The anonymous campus donor, believed to be female, who annually mails crisp $100 bills to S.U.'s ROTC department "for orphans in Vietnam" has struck for the second year.

THE SPECIAL Christmas presents, received in early December, have both been addressed to Col. John Robinson, ROTC cadre commander, mailed on campus, and accompanied by a note in feminine handwriting.

This year, the ROTC department consulted the Seattle office of Dr. Pat Smith, director of Minh Quy Hospital, in its search for a Vietnamese orphanage. The money was mailed Dec. 10 to St. Vincent's Orphanage, Kontum, Viet Nam, just across the street from Dr. Smith's hospital.

The orphanage is run by the Daughters of Charity.

Lieut. Col. Leonard Kraft has requested a reply from the orphanage to acknowledge their receipt of the gift and give some idea of its use.

"IF THIS HAPPENS again next year, we'll have a record," he said.

Last year's $100 gift sparked the Chieftain Rifles gift and clothing drive for Vietnamese orphans. The freshman and sophomore ROTC honorary sent their gifts to an orphanage near Cam Ranh Bay.

In this year's note, the donor said, "These children suffer so much . . . perhaps this money can help them smile."

INCREASE OF FACULTY work loads is the chief feature of an economy plan proposed this week by the Very Rev. Louis B. Gaffney, S.J., acting president of S.U. Faculty members will take increases from 35 to 40 credit hours per year for the next two academic years. The increase, Fr. Gaffney said, will allow a cutback in the number of faculty employed. The president also said the University will take a close look at stopping some of the more "luxurious" course offerings.

I.D. Requires Validation for Library Use

Students this quarter must have their student identification cards validated for library use.

Previously the I.D. card with the appropriate quarter's sticker on it was all that was required to make use of library materials, but the number of books not returned fall quarter made the present move necessary to try to recover library articles.

Mrs. Helen Hanify, head of circulation, estimated that 500 books were not returned fall quarter and at an average cost plus replacement of $10 each, the library was losing $8,000-$10,000.

STUDENTS ARE asked to stop by the circulation desk on the library's second floor where the librarian will check their name against a list of students owing fines or books. A special sticker will be affixed to the I.D. card for validation.

The validation is expected to be in effect this quarter only while other methods of recovering books and fines, such as billing the library fines to tuition statements, are being considered.

The library catalog system has undergone a change since fall quarter. Two additional catalog card units have been added and contain all the old "blue starred" subject cards and new cards with headings in capital letters.

ALL AUTHOR and title cards will be in another section.

It was felt by the library staff that the separation of subject cards would speed research for students and faculty who did not have specific authors or books in mind, but wanted to find out what information the library had on a certain subject.

REMEMBER THE BLUE STAR? All those "subject" cards that used to be scattered among the title and author cards in the University library index file have now been culled out and established in a section of their own. So now avid researchers can look up all the works on "Cultivation, agricultural" without plowing through "Cullen, William Henry" and "Culinary Masterpieces."

OFFICIAL NOTICE

Monday, January 11th is the last day to add or change a course.

No change will be considered official unless the student has filed the necessary card with the Registrar's Office and paid the correct fees.

Students must first obtain the correct card, get an advisors signature, return the card to the Registrar and pay the fee to the Treasurer's Office.

Memorial Mass to Recall Honors Student, Soldier

A memorial Mass will be offered at 12:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Liturgical Center for Mark Ford, an S.U. sophomore, and Duane Cordiner who graduated in 1969, both of whom died during the quarter break.

Ford died Dec. 21 from injuries suffered Dec. 18 in an auto-pedestrian accident. He had just completed his first quarter in the Honors program. He entered S.U. at 17 on an honors scholarship.

GRADUATING in three years from Seattle Preparatory School, Ford excelled in science, math, music and won several writing awards. One of his own poems was read at his funeral.

Among his awards was the Ad Altare Dei Award, the Church's award to outstanding scouts. He also held the rank of Quartermaster, Sea Scouting's highest position.

The family asked that remembrances be made to the S.U. Honors Program.

CORDINER, a U.S. Army lieutenant, was killed in a terrorist raid on Saigon in mid-December after being in Viet Nam since Dec. 7. At S.U. he had been in ROTC, participating in the flight program. He graduated with a major in English and a minor in P.E. His widow and son are living in Tumwater, Washington.

Lawrence J. Kirchoff, a school friend serving with Cordiner in Viet Nam, sent $100 to Col. John L. Robinson, ROTC chairman, to establish a Duane G. Cordiner ROTC scholarship fund. Col.

Robinson commented that details as to who would benefit from the fund were yet to be discussed.

Gamma Pi Epsilon Pledges 37; New Group Largest in History

Gamma Pi Epsilon, national Jesuit women's honorary, recently selected 37 new members.

This year's pledge group is the largest of the S.U. chapter which originated on campus in 1962. The honorary was founded in 1925 at Marquette University.

THE SOCIETY is open to upperclasswomen with a 3.5 gpa who have demonstrated scholarship, loyalty and service to S.U. and the community. Members are chosen from the recommendation of academic deans, faculty and the chapter and approved by Father President.

The members from the School of Arts and Sciences are Janis Bell, Joyce Burgess, Alicia Butcher, Hannah Callaghan, Karen Cence, Marian Cheung, Kathleen Clark, Nancy Dillman, Kathryn Dugaw, Gay Erlenborn and Veronica Fabico.

Other initiates are: Teresa Fasevich, Joan Fread, Barbara Habersetzer, Charlene Hill, Mary Kalnin, Maryann Knowles, Catherine Konsbruck, Patricia McNamara, Joanne Mokosh, Mary Murray, Elizabeth Paschke, Diana Pompeo, Nancy Sorenson and Sheila Vassey.

MEMBERS FROM the School of Education include Shelley Bergstrand, Nancy Duncan, Mary Beth Ekar, Helen Gustafson, Ellen Haley, Katherine Kill, Cynthia Lindsey, Joan Pereira, Mary Alice Sacquittine and Carol Woodruff.

Other members are Mary Ann Dwyer from the School of Nursing and Victoria Imhof from the School of Business.

Regents Board Adds Members

Jon Bowman, Seattle and Bellevue businessman, and Walter Webster, Jr., Seattle attorney, were named to the S.U. Board of Regents in December.

Webster, in his new post as S.U. Alumni Association, was appointed an "ex officio" member of the board, which advises the University president. All alumni presidents qualify as regents during their year's term of office.

A 1950 S.U. graduate in economics, Webster, 44, received his doctorate of laws degree from Georgetown University.

He served as a King County deputy prosecuting attorney and in the Washington State attorney general's office before entering private law practice.

Bowman, 39, is president of The Boat Yard in Seattle and Galt Enterprises, Inc. of Bellevue. He is also a partner of Commercial Marine Properties in Seattle.

A member of numerous boards and committees, Bowman is a native of Anaconda, Mont. and presently lives in Mercer Island.

The addition of Bowman and Webster brings the number of regents to 17. There is no fixed number for the board, appointed for unlimited terms and chosen for leadership in their fields.

Mass Schedule

The winter quarter mass and confession schedule is as follows:

Liturgical Center, third floor L.A.: Masses, 12:10 p.m. Monday through Friday, 12:30 a.m. ("Midnight" Mass) Sunday.

grapher, has been unable to send his prints due to an illness, according to Dr. Tom Green, the show's sponsor.

A city planner by profession, Garrod has studied photography with Ansel Adams, Brett Weston, and Minor White. He has exhibited extensively in California and twice at George Eastman House, Rochester, N.Y.

His work is included in the Smithsonian Institute collection in Washington, D.C. This is his first showing in Washington state.

Congratulations to Doris Brown, the 1970 P.I. Man of the Year winner. Doris was awarded the honor during Tuesday night's annual Man of the Year Banquet.

Doris' four-time women's National Cross Country victories, four-time international country queen and this country's representative at the 1968 Olympics in Mexico City, earned her this recent award.

To the Huskies head basketball coach Tex Winter: I realize basketball is a game of guts and strategy, but honestly Mr. Winter, if the "contact controversy" is true, how would you have felt if you would have won by two points?

I'M PROUD TO BE associated with S.U.'s head mentor, Bucky Buckwalter, who realizes the real way to win a game is with the talent he knows his team possesses.

Bucky Buckwalter reminisces over some of the past games, and players, "with the efforts so far of Greg Williams and Mark Van Antwerp, our previous worries over the post position have lessened.

"We went down to New Mexico (Road Runner Classic Tournament) optimistically, in hopes of winning, but the 35 turnovers against us definitely hurt any chance of a win over New Mexico State.

WITH THE loss of Gary Ladd (injured in the U of Pacific game) we also lost our quickness for the Gonzaga game. It was a weird game, but being ahead by four points with one minute to go, we should have won."

"Husky-S.U. games are always interesting, and this year it proved so again. We did a lot of beautiful things in that last game. Willie Blue did an outstanding job on covering Paul Tillman, somebody we've been unable to stop before.

"It has really been a team effort so far. I am pleased with everybody. Mike Collins' and Greg Williams' defense and rebounding have been outstanding. Mike is currently the leading percentage shooter on the squad with 50%. It's hard to pick just one or two standouts, as the whole team should be mentioned."

S.U.'S BEST single game individual performances up to 1/4/71 are:

Most Points-28, Mike Collins vs. Montana State, 12-23-70.

Most Field Goals-11, Mike Collins vs. Montana State, 12-23-70.

Most Free Throws-8, Mike Collins vs. U of Washington, 12-4-70.

Most Rebounds-16, Mike Collins vs. Arizona State, 12-9-70. Note: Haven't you got anything else to do, Mike?

To be eligible for the NBA playoffs this year, its about time for the Seattle SuperSonics to play catch-up basketball. Those assisting in the present 19-24 record are:

Player-coach Lenny Wilkens presently holds the leading scoring (20.8) and assist (38.1, third in the league) categories, for the Sonics. Lenny will be playing in his eighth straight All-Star game on Jan. 12.

Pete Cross has pulled down 485 rebounds in 40 games to be top man in the field.

THE CURRENT problems with the signing of Spencer Haywood seem not to have affected his playing ability, as he has ripped the cords 28 times in two games.

Dick Snyder is the only Sonic that has appeared in the starting line up for the 43 games. Snyder is also rated fourth in the league for field goal percentage shooting with .529.

Being known as an inexperienced squad and lacking anything near an Alcindor, the Chieftains were predicted at the start of the season to be destined for rock bottom. But no Chieftain fan can hide behind shame.

Although they show a 5-5 record, the Chiefs have not lost a game by more than four points, with the exception of the games in the Road Runner Classic Tournament.

LOSING TO Hawes' U. of W. Huskies on Dec. 4, 87-85, was a disappointing and mind beating defeat to head coach Bucky Buckwalter and his tribe. Steve Hawes came through with three seconds remaining and put the lid on a Husky victory.

Coming from a failing record, the Chiefs took charge and showed the fans that Chiefs can be warriors. Mike Collins came off the bench and ignited the Chiefs to a slim 40-39 half-time margin over Arizona State on Dec. 9 and led the Chiefs to an 89-84 win.

A 99-80 victory over Brigham Young on Dec. 14th shoved confidence into guards Captain Tommy Giles and Gary Ladd, each scoring 23 points.

In a heartstopping, humdinger 77-75 upset over the University of Pacific Tigers on Dec. 18 Collins' desperation jump shot with about 10 seconds to go stymied any chance for a Tiger victory.

TEAM CAPTAIN Tom Giles and coach Bucky Buckwalter admire the Baylor-Houbregs trophy the team recaptured following their 86-81 victory over the U.W. Huskies. The perpetual trophy is named after former S.U. and U.W. greats Elgin Baylor and Bob Houbregs.

defense upset S.U.'s aggressive enough to pull a tight 70-69 victory over our Chieftains.

Behind Greg Williams' rebounding, Collins' successful hoop shooting and Ladd's momentum, the Chiefs were able to carry through a victory over Montana State by 104-90 on Dec. 23.

THE ROAD RUNNER Tournament down in New Mexico was an experience Big Chief

Buckwalter would like to disassociate with. Losing to New Mexico State Dec. 28, 91-78, put the Chiefs in the consolation round against University of Pacific on Dec. 28. S.U. was stubbed by the shooting and rebounding of Big John Gianelli and bowed to the Tigers 80-70.

With a 4-5 record the Chieftains took on the Washington Huskies in the Coliseum Jan. 2. The Chiefs were never behind the whole game. With breaks going S.U.'s way and Gary Ladd's 14 points, the Chiefs entered the dressing room at half time with a 46-43 lead.

Williams opened the second half for the Chiefs with 10 points within five minutes, giving the Chiefs a 62-49 lead. Greg ended with 27 points, to tie the Huskies 6'10" center, Steve Hawes, as S.U. outlasted the U.W., 86-81.

Sophomore Greg Williams was voted most valuable player for this year's series with the Huskies, and in proud style, Captain Tommy Giles strided off the court with the much deserved Baylor-Houbregs trophy.

Frosh Look to Winter With One-loss Record

"This is a group that compliments each other very well," said Bernie Simpson, freshman basketball mentor, following the Paps' sixth game.

THE PAPOOSES now own a 5-1 season log after beating the Pacific Lutheran JVs Tuesday night, 99-66. Their only loss was to a tough Western Washington State JV team, 60-58.

Steve Endresen, who scored 23 points against PLU, leads the Paps with a 21.5 points average. Rod Derline had 25 points and is averaging 17 points per outing.

Simpson singled out Ron Howard, muscular forward from Pasco, as an outstanding team leader.

"RON AVERAGED 25 points per game in high school," Simpson said, "and is averaging 12 points now due to his fine team play."

SIMPSON'S CAGERS are averaging 94.3 points per game while limiting their opponents to 20 points less than that.

Next action will pit the Paps against the Seattle Pacific College frosh Friday night at SPC and a game is set Saturday in Ellensburg where the little Chiefs will face the JVs from Central Washington State.

Chiefs Holding 5-5 Record, But Rough Road Ahead

by Pat Curran

The Chieftains have moved up to a .500 season, with a 5-5 record. More treacherous movement, on the road, faces them for the next four games.

S.U. has not won an away game this year. However, against San Diego State on Saturday and the University of Nevada-Reno on Monday, the Chiefs will face less formidable teams than those met recently.

SAN DIEGO STATE has a 2-6 record. The Aztecs lost to Colorado in their last game.

The Aztecs and the Chiefs rely on fast-break basketball so the match-up should be high-scoring. San Diego State has won the two previous games between the schools.

Following the Aztec game, the Chiefs travel to Nevada. Last season Nevada-Reno had a 5-17 record. S.U. has won the two games in which the schools have competed.

GAMES WILL BE broadcast at 8 on Saturday and at 7 on Monday on KISW-FM.

S.U. has a three day rest after these two games, then continues its perilous road journey.
